

Boston 5

The object of the game is for the player to achieve a higher poker hand than the dealer according to the standard rules of poker.

RULES

A single standard deck of playing cards will be used in dealing Boston 5.

Players are not allowed to make a three card bonus bet without playing the core game.

To start the game, each player must Ante and place a First Wager. The ante amount must be half of the first wager. Three Card Bonus bets must be placed at this time. Each player and the dealer will be dealt three cards face down.

After players view their three cards, they have the option to fold, or place a second wager equal to their First Wager. Players that have a three card bonus hand must place their hand face up on the table so the dealer can award them their bonus according to the 3 Card Bonus pay table below. No 3 Card Bonus claims will be allowed once the dealer has dealt the final two cards. Players who have made a second wager will receive their two final cards dealt face down.

If a player has paid for all five cards, the player's hand is then compared to the dealer's hand. The higher poker hand wins. In the event of a tie, players push, no winners. A player who does not pay for all five cards must fold thus losing the ante and all wagers already paid.

When the dealer's hand beats the player's hand, the dealer collects the ante and all wagers. When the player's hand beats the dealer hand the player retains their ante and all wagers, players are paid an amount equal to their 1st and 2nd wagers, an additional bonus will be paid on the Ante according to the Ante Bonus pay table below.

Should a player achieve a five card bonus hand and the dealer has a higher hand, the player will still receive their bonus award, the dealer will then collect all bets posted by the player.
